TURPIN

Michael Turpin, the emigrant, came from Yorkshire, England, about 1655, bought lands in 1656 from Col. Wm. Farrar, of Farrar's Island, called "Henrico." He is the emigrant ancestor of the Turpins in Virginia, Kentucky, &c. His will is dated July 4, 1663, or 1673. He had several sons, among them being:

- Philip, born Yorkshire, England, 1655; married Martha Skirm, of Henrico and died 1717. He left issue. (See forward.)
- John, born about 1660.
- Matthew, born 1664; married Sarah Hatcher, daughter of Edward Hatcher and died 1689. He had sons, Henry and Mathew; daughter, Cicely. The widow married, October 16, 1689, Jos. Tanner. Mathew Turpin's estate divided December 2, 1689. (Deed Book 5, page 104, Henrico County Records.)

Michael Turpin, the emigrant, settled in Henrico County with his family; but in time, as the counties were cut off from Henrico we find members of the same family, or their descendants, owning property in all the counties mentioned above.

The following compilation of the Horatio Turpin family in Kentucky was submitted by his granddaughter, Mrs. Nannie Chambers Abbett, of Louisville, Kentucky.

Horatio Turpin left Powhatan County, Virginia, shortly before 1820 for Lexington, Kentucky, where he remained a short time before purchasing a large tract of land in Gallatin County, Kentucky, lying between Eagle Creek and Craigs Creek. The home which he called "Beech Park" was about seven miles from the Ohio River. After buying the land he went back to Powhatan County, Virginia, and returned to Kentucky with a large number of slaves in the spring of 1820.

They cleared ground, built cabins, then cultivated the cleared land and burned the brick with which the home at "Beech Park" was built.

The following fall he again went to Virginia to conduct his family to their new home.

His wife, who is referred to as "Pretty Mary Bancroft" in "Reminiscences of Wilmington, Del.," was many years his junior.

Their children were:

Edward Augustus; Philip Osborne; Mary Elizabeth James; William Henry; Horatio Harris; Peterfield; Powhatan Virginius Americus; Harriett; Thomas Jefferson; Anna Cornelia; and two infants William and Thomas, who died and were buried in Virginia.

All of the children were born in Virginia except Thomas Jefferson and Anna Cornelia, my mother, who were born at "Beech Park" in 1823 and 1825, respectively.

The journey from Virginia to "Beech Park" was made overland, Horatio riding his horse while the family, including "Virginius," a child of three years, and Harriett, a babe of three weeks, rode in the carriage. They were accompanied by the house servants and came over the mountains, camping by the way.

Horatio Turpin died in 1826 leaving his widow to raise her ten children, which she succeeded in doing with credit. The home was a center of social life, and the sons were all college men, Edward Augustus attending Transylvania at Lexington, Kentucky, and the others going to Hanover College at Madison, Indiana.

Edward Augustus and William Henry married the Satterwhite sisters of Louisville, Kentucky, and became the owners of a line of steamboats running from Cincinnati to New Orleans. President Buchanan appointed Edward as Minister to Venezuela and he later ran a line of steamboats on the Orinoco River in South America. While at Caracas his daughter, Teresa Langhorne, died of yellow fever. He returned to the States and with his brother, Virginius, amassed a fortune in pork packing in Chicago. Edward later went to Philadelphia to live while Virginius went to New York.

Phillip Osborne married Mary Ellen Butler, of Carroll County, Kentucky, and they had a large family at Carrollton, Ky. The only surviving member of this family is Dr. Thomas Jefferson Turpin of Chihuahua, Mexico.

Mary Elizabeth James married Jesse D. Bright of Shelby County, Kentucky, who had gone to Madison, Indiana, as a young lawyer. He entered political life there and was elected Lieutenant Governor of that state, and afterward United States Senator. While acting as speaker of the Senate he addressed a letter to Jefferson Davis, who had been a classmate at Transylvania as "President Davis" and was expelled from the Senate on this account. Mrs. Lawrason Riggs of Baltimore, Maryland, was their daughter, and Miss Georgie G. Bright of Baltimore, Md., is the only surviving child. Another daughter, Sarah Virginia Bright, married Dr. William Henderson and their daughter Jessie married Hugh P. Colville and still lives in Covington.

Horatio Harris lost his health on a surveying expedition to Washington Territory and died at Carrollton, Ky., shortly after the death of his wife. He had married Mildred Hawkins and they had no children.

Peterfield died at the age of eighteen.

Harriett married Benjamin Murrill and died in less than a year afterward.

Thomas Jefferson married Harriett McIntyre of Madison, Indiana, and went to Indiana to live.

Anna Cornelia, my mother, married Dr. Absalom B. Chambers in March, 1852. In 1853 they went to Peoria, Illinois, to live, taking my brother, Horatio Turpin Chambers, then an infant with them. I was born in Peoria. Illinois was a “free state” and the negroes had been left in Kentucky. They returned to Kentucky and my father bought “Beech Park” and they spent the remainder of their lives there or at Warsaw, Kentucky, where my grandmother Turpin and her son, Horatio Harris were charter members of the Baptist Church.

My grandparents and some of the children are buried at “Beech Park.”

My father was a prisoner in the Civil War much of the time, finally finding refuge in Canada until after the troubles were over. He died at the age of 52 years, a prominent and influential citizen of his county and state. My mother died at the age of 67 and a year later her brother, Virginius, died leaving a widow but no children.

My father and mother had four children,

Horatio Turpin Chambers who was older than I, my youngest sister, Mary Bright Chambers, who died at the age of 19, my younger brother, James Whitfield Chambers and myself.

My brother, Horatio Turpin Chambers, died many years ago and his widow, Sallie Bond Chambers and the four grandchildren of Thomas Jefferson Turpin are the only representatives of the family, who still live in Gallatin County. My brother left two daughters, Mrs. J. K. Bannister, of Lima, Ohio, and Mrs. W. S. Corkran, of Milburn, New Jersey.

My younger brother, James Whitfield Chambers, married and has one son, Moreau B. Chambers, who is now 18 years old. They live on their plantation at Clinton, Mississippi.

I married Everett Edwards Abbett at Warsaw, Ky., December 10th, 1878. Mr. Abbett died in 1913. Our children are:

Anna Gibson Abbett, who is not married and who lives with me in Louisville, Ky., Harry Jefferson Abbett, married Jean Tilney Jackson, of Lethbridge, Canada. They lost their only child, Harry, Jr. My son, Harry was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis in February, 1907, saw service in Mexican waters and commanded a flotilla of destroyers operating out of Brest in the World War. He was awarded the “Distinguished Service Medal” by our Government and the cross of The Legion of Honor with the title of “Chevalier” by the French Government. He is still in the Navy, holding the rank of "Commander" and is the Executive Officer at the U. S. Naval Training Station, San Diego, Cal.

My son, Edward Bancroft Abbett, married Sophie Rogers Lee, of Louisville, Ky. They have two children Ann Preston Abbett, born in 1924 and Mary Bancroft Abbett, born in 1925. Edward is General Manager of The Newport Culvert Co., of Newport, Ky., and they live in Covington, Ky.

My youngest son, Leon Gill Abbett, married Lillian Julian, of Lexington, Ky., and they have one son, Tarlton Julian Abbett who was born in 1925. They live in Clearwater, Florida, where Leon is in the general insurance business.

Both Edward and Leon served overseas in the World War as Captains in the 325th Field Artillery.

Philip Osborne Turpin, son of Horatio and Mary (Bancroft) Turpin, married Mary Ellen Butler, of Carroll County, Ky. Their children were:

- (1) Fannie; married Evan Southgate.
- (2) Percival Butler; died unmarried.
- (3) Sallie; married Edward Southgate.
- (4) Dr. Thomas Jefferson; married Sophia C. (Fidie) Buckner.
Living in Chihuahua, Mexico. One child:
(a) Katherine; married John N. Goddard.
- (5) Virginia, died young.
- (6) Philip Bancroft; married Fannie Griffin.
- (7) Mary, died young.
- (8) William T., died young.

Thomas Turpin, whose will was probated in Bedford County, March 27, 1826, came to Bedford from Chesterfield County, Virginia, sometime after the Revolutionary War. He was born about 1758, a descendant of Michael Turpin, the emigrant, and was, probably, the grandson of Philip and Elizabeth Turpin, of Chesterfield. (The will of Elizabeth Turpin (widow) dated 1769, Will Book 2, page 211, Chesterfield County records, mentions children: Philip, Thomas, Elisha, Mary Winifree, Josiah, Martha.) Thomas Turpin married, about 1779, Rachel Cheatwood, daughter of William Cheatwood, of Powhatan County, Va. (William Cheatwood's will in Powhatan County, 1777, Will Book "I," page 129, mentions children as follows: John, Daniel, Billy, Lotty, Alexander; nine daughters: Clara, Sillah, Rachel, Beckie, Alice, Patience, Polly, Charity, and Betsy.) (Sillah Cheatwood married Jesse Spinner, and came to Bedford County to live. See Spinner-Burks families.) Thomas Turpin died in 1826, and his wife, Rachel, several years later.

CHILDREN:

- (1) Elisha, born about 1782; deceased before 1823. Evidently never married.
- (2) Elizabeth, born about 1784; married, January 17, 1801, Sanford Halley. Went West.
- (3) Josiah, born about 1785; married, March 6, 1810, Frances Burton. (See forward.)
